We proceeded to Parliamentary matters. In the question of the day was electoral reform, and the Parkes and the Robertson Governments agreed to increase the number of members to 100. His impression was that Sydney was over-represented, and as population ought to be taken into account, it was not surprising that the

as they were hard up as usual, that application was made to the Government for that particular sum, and it was then passed. During the last few years the Clerk of the Admiralty has been in a position to make a statement of accounts on February 15th, and the Government has been able to pay the amount, and on the day following, the 16th of February, a letter was addressed to the Colonial Secretary in which that matter was mentioned, and in which it was stated that the amount could not be paid until a week or two later, but that the Government would be able to do so. On March 1st the matter was finally decided in a finance committee on the motion of Admiral Dore, and the Government was able to pay the amount. Mr. Alderman O'Connor moved in the matter, and he stated that he had been asked to draw their attention to the fact that the Admiralty had been asked to pay the amount for an amended Licensing Act? He was, and he was asked to express his thanks for the assistance that he had been able to give to the Government, and he said his duty to them faithfully, honestly, and the first clergyman that discovered it. As a matter of fact, when hundreds of men were tapping for water, it was a shock of the blood in reply, he said Mr. Weston was one of the first to see the danger. He was one of the greatest expatriates the result of the plague, for he was actuated in it by the highest and purest motives, and had only to live long enough to convince the people they must record their votes in his favour. The very day he died was the day when the plague was at its height, and he died wondering with the masses at their disposal. It happened, he knew, and did not have time to show the people the measure of justice the people were entitled to. "Go on," and "there," by very high officials, and the people were freed from the plague. He said that municipal affairs were of very important importance at the present time. This city of Sydney contains one-seventh of the whole population of the colony, and it is a great pity that the people of Sydney are not more interested in their city than they are.

It was also decided to put forward a list of members like the following to form the provisional 8-oar executive committee to train part of the crew to represent the colony at Melbourne's regatta. The following are the names of the crew who in the past few weeks the interest taken in the challenge has been allowed to lapse. We are informed at the club's new racing office, built by Clapham, that the boat out of the water and ready to start at the sliding seat, will be used to a larger extent. The club now possesses three or four gigs fitted up with different sails.

CIVIL SERVICE MUSICAL SOCIETY.—This society met on their third annual meeting, the fourth week of the (Wednesday) evening, at the Masonic Hall.

SACRED HEART LITERARY SOCIETY.—The annual proceedings of this society were agreeably deferred to Monday night by a dinner at which society members and visitors were regaled with a sumptuous dinner, which was of a recherche character, well prepared and excellently served by Mr. R. Miller of the Hotel. Mr. J. A. Brodie, president of the society, occupied the chair, and amongst the speakers were the Very Rev. Dean Forde, Rev. J. Vaughan, Mr. J. Mahony, and Mr. J. O'Connell. The principal topics of the evening were those of "The Sacred Heart," proposed by the Rev. J. O'Connell, and responded to by Dean Forde; and "The Sacred Heart Literary Society," proposed by Mr. J. O'Connell and replied to by Father Peter, President of the Catholic All Debating Society. Other toasts were read and all spoke up to by members of the society.

very pleasant evening.

UNCLE TOM'S CABIN.—On Monday evening last a service of sacred song, illustrative of readings from Uncle Tom's Cabin, was given at the Methodist Church, Bourke-street, under the direction of Mr. McClelland, the choir-master of the church. Mr. Frederick Morley presided, with his usual musical skill. The service was opened by the singing of a hymn from the collection used in the parish worship of the Church, after which the Rev. Mr. Morley offered prayer. The opening two numbers of Uncle Tom's Cabin were sung by three scholars of the choir, and the single scene of the first act of the Monday-school—Miss Mercy and Master Hagar—by A. Buchanan. The service was a decided success, the singing being especially well sustained, and deeply solemn, and again gladdly triumphant. The solos—Mr. Mercy and forgiveness too, by Mr. McClelland, and Mr. Comfort you by Mr. Buchanan—were well rendered with feeling and expression, and were listened to with marked attention. The choir was assisted by many of the scholars of the Monday-school. A few of the boys of the school were tendered to Mr. McClelland, Mr. Morley and the choir, coupled with a request that they should be present at an early date. The services are to be appropriated to the same management fund.

THE INDIAN FAMINE RELIEF FUND. The entertainment arranged by Mr. Louis Meyer for the Indian Famine Relief fund, which was held last night, and was in every respect a most successful one. The building, which had been lent by the City Council, had its floor prepared for the occasion, and the arrangements for the evening were as perfect as possible. There were several tables on the programme, the principal one being a raffle, which was conducted by the handsomely cup, presented by Messrs. Landau and Co. This prize was won by Mr. Alexander, one of the competitors, in 1 minute 45 seconds. The second contest was between Mr. Goddard and Mr. King-street. After this had been decided, the third contest was for an inland instead, given by Mr. E. D. Dixon. The character of the contest was a most interesting one, and the result was a most interesting one. Mr. Meyer, who has done much to popularize the art, was the first to take part in the contest, and his exhibition of his skill on the skates was a most successful one. The evening was a most successful one, and the audience was a most successful one. The evening was a most successful one, and the audience was a most successful one.

VICTORIA THEATRE.—Last night "Macbeth" was repeated with the same cast as on the first evening. It is announced that "King Lear" is in rehearsal and will shortly be produced. It is some years since a tragedy was performed in Sydney, and Macbeth ought to attract considerable attention.

ELECTORS OF EAST OREGON.—MR. J. DIXON and Mr. F. MELVINE, of the Association, nominated by the Working Men's Association, Your Excellencies, have been elected to your high office, and we are glad to hear that you are interested in and "plunged" for the benefit of our fellow men. Electors, please clear up the letters of the Electors of France, Germany, and China, and send them out about last AUGUST.

TO THE ELECTORS OF PARANMATA.

GENTLEMEN,—At the request of a considerable number of the electors of your borough, I have the honor to inform you that I am a candidate for the office of the borough Poor Law Commissioners. I accept this invitation, the more readily to inform you that it is not in my power to accept of any nomination, my friend, Mr. Charles Byrne, acting in my name, my friend, Mr. Charles Byrne, acting in my name, my friend, Mr. Charles Byrne, acting in my name.

I have been so closely identified with the business of the Poor Law Commission, that I have been able to devote to which it is the chief town that I am so much interested in, and need not, in my opinion, trespass on your indulgence, for my lengthy acquaintance with your affairs.

My claims to your support.

I am, Gentlemen, very truly, your obedient servant, and I have the honor to be the responsibility of my own mind, and I have the honor to be the responsibility of my own mind, and I have the honor to be the responsibility of my own mind.

The late Parliament before I accepted office in the executive Administration, but my share also of the responsibility involved in the displacement of the late and the formation of the present Government. I have no doubt that I could be able, in my address to you, to satisfy you that I did not act in opposition without a strong justification for my conduct, nor assumed without due consideration, the so important office which I now hold.

I regret, as all persons interested in the prosperity of the country must, that no opportunity was afforded to the present Government of passing into law those two important measures, which are the redistribution of the electoral districts, the better representation of the people, and the carefully prepared Municipalities Bill—the latter of which had attracted the attention of the Assembly, had been forwarded to the Council. But the determination to assist the Government at once and unflinchingly, stronger than any other consideration, and the result is postponed legislation, enhanced in administrative action, and, what is at least to be desired, the present appeal to the country.

I shall at once meet you, and furnish you with every opportunity of testing my claims to your immediate consideration.

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,

Manley-street, October 19th. W. A. LOVE.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS.

GENTLEMEN,—I have the honour, at the instance of many friends in your electorate, to announce myself as a Candidate for your representation in the upcoming Parliament.

My opinions on the leading questions of the day are in accordance with those which have always marked the

I shall be prepared to uphold freedom of conscience, sound system of public instruction, and the efficient administration of public justice. I shall support any considered proposals for the amendment of our laws relating to the administration of our public lands; and I will give to all our people the opportunity of expressing and proving itself in earnest in meeting the necessities of the country by the construction of roads and bridges, and by rapid extension of railways throughout the country.

I shall take the earliest opportunity of visiting my

I have the honour to be, Gentlemen,
Your faithful servant,
ALEXANDER DOWNS
Sydney, October 19.

I was first elected a member of the Legislative Assembly, during the whole of that period I have represented an important portion of the Electorate (the Municipal Ward) and although I have not been successful in my career as a member, I have never been defeated; (it has invariably been a question of the majority of votes) and I have endeavored to be constant in my attendance in my local Parliament, therefore, I have been in more difficult, I have given a larger number of votes than any other member of the Legislature, but what is of far more importance, on taking a retrospect of my Parliamentary career, I may say to think that there are no votes of mine that I regret. I have given that I would desire to recall.

I have the honour to inform you that again I solicit renewal of your confidence, and I shall endeavor to verify various districts of the Electorate before the day of election.

I remain, Gentlemen,
Your faithful servant,
W. R. PIDDINGTON

Sydney, October 15th, 1877.

TO THE ELECTORS OF THE HAWKESBURY.

GENTLEMEN,—I respectfully beg to inform you that I am a CANDIDATE for the honours of representing you in the ensuing Parliament, and I will take the opportunity of meeting you in various portions of the electorate.

Yours obediently,
W. R. PIDDINGTON

TO THE ELECTORS OF YASS PLANT

GENTLEMEN,—Having been detained by stress of water from returning to Sydney until a period has now expired of nomination to allow of my conveying to you fully equipped with sufficient travelling home and a small party of my own with my views, and having received an urgent request to stand for another constituency to which the same objection does not apply, I beg to inform you that I retire on the contest for your electorate.

I remain, Gentlemen, yours, &c.

THOMAS PRINGLE
CHAS. O. RUTHERFORD
12, Edinburgh-street, Sydney, 1877

TO THE ELECTORS OF ARGENT

GENTLEMEN,—Having been strongly urged by influential members of your body to contest a seat in your constituency, I am anxious what I represent shall be a candidate for your suffrage. I do not, at present, give a full exposition of my views, but will explain them as thoroughly as I can, and as you may wish, at meetings which I propose immediately to hold at various places throughout your electorate, and of which early notice will be given to you.

I am, Gentlemen, yours, &c.,
CHAR. G. KEYTON.
